

Mr. Graham
Buttenshaw

DMC Mining Services announces appointment of new Managing Director

DMC is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Graham Buttenshaw to the position of Managing Director of DMC Mining Services (DMC), effective January 16, 2017. Mr. Buttenshaw brings a wealth of global mining experience to the company and will lead DMC on its next chapter in its success through the expansion of the business domestically and abroad.

As an executive, Mr. Buttenshaw has successfully developed and led major mining projects around the world for companies such as Nyrstar, Redpath, Troy Resources and BHP Billiton. He has a B.Sc. in mining engineering from the Royal School of Mines in the UK, and completed an advanced management program at Harvard Business School. Mr. Buttenshaw has managed projects in Europe, Australia, North America and South America.

For more information visit www.dmcmining.com

About DMC Mining Services

DMC has been in business since 1980 leading the underground mining industry with innovative technology and solutions. From patented long round jumbo drilling to automated shaft sinking technology, DMC has been at the forefront of the industry working with the smallest to largest mining companies in the world.

From shaft sinking, raise boring, mine construction, engineering and contract mining, DMC has the experience, people and equipment to do your job safely.